THE CONFEDERATE STATES CONSTITUTION -A SOUTH CAROLINA OPINION .- The Submission and Black Republican journals are quick to seize on any paragraph in Southern papers that indicate the slightest discontent with the actions of the Confederate States. They are famous for quoting the Charleston Mercury, which, representing the extremist opinions, sometimes errs. Well, that paper has again spoken, and finds fault with some of the provisions of the new Constitution; but it thus concludes its review of that document:

"But, taken as a Whole, the Constitution for a Southorn Confederacy, submitted to us by our delegates at Montgomery, is the best Constitution, we believe, ever devised by man. We are grateful for it, and cannot doubt that | Gibbons, Main street. will long endure a monument of the wisdom, ability, and patriotism of the South.'

Mind, fault-finders of the Submission party, this is from the Charleston (S. C.) Mercury.

The Convention met. Old party lines seemed obliterated; and the very flower and the soul of all the old parties, ignoring past differences, and sheathing, as to each other, swords which had done noble service in political conflicts in times past, met together as brothers, acted in harmony and concert to one great end, and agreeing as to the policy to be pursued, parted with an unalterable described on the receipts for box rents—making $4,000, the highest compensation to any postmaster. A larger sum than this cannot be realized without resorting to acts made criminal and felonious by laws of Congress, and punished by the severest penalties. Even were a postmaster inclined to take the risk of such penalties, as well as the ruin of private and official cherry.

The Submissionists were surprised at the demonstration; they were annoyed to see men capable of rising superior to party and the indulgence in such practices would in

The neglect of Waite to do so continued the General in command until the Texans had assembled an overwhelming force. To have resisted this force in the open and exposed garrison in which the United States troops were stationed, would have been the sheerest folly and madness. Instead of insult and dismission, Gen. Twiggs deserved the gratitude and high commendation of the Government at Washington, and of the Northern people. He was entitled at least to the honorable and prompt acceptance of his resignation, which had been some time in the hands of the Washington authorities. MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR. his reasons for the veto. The message reads as follows:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,

March 22, 1861.

Gentlemen of the Senate: A few days previous to your recent adjournment a bill was submitted to me for my approval, entitled "An act to amend the charters of the banks of Kentucky." I recognize, and fully appreciate, the commendable considerations which, doubtless, instigated this measure of intended relief; and, sympathizing, as I do, not less deeply than your-selves—with the financial distress of the people, I regret that, upon careful examination of this bill, I cannot discern in its operation as a law those beneficent results which seem to have been your laudable object. Reluctant to interpose my veto to a measure which, in your wisdom, you have devised to relieve the monetary stringency now felt, I am yet con-strained, in this instance, to dissent from your views, and to withhold from the bill my sanction. It is herewith returned to the Senate, in which it originated, with the objections I propose, as briefly as possible, to submit.

The bill authorizes the banks to re-issue $4,000,000, in notes of described denominations, payable two years from the date of such re-issue, coupled with the obligation to loan, upon the usual securities, $400,000 to the people of each congressional district. The manifest purpose of the bill is to relieve the distress of the people by an opportune addition of $4,000,000 to the circulating medium of the State. I question the efficacy of the measure to accomplish the object. What assurance have we that it will, in fact, add one dollar to the notes now in actual circulation among the people? Manifestly none. What notes will be re-issued under the provisions of this bill—those which have sought shelter from the financial storm in the vaults of the banks, or those which are now employed in the transaction of business? If the former, mischief, rather than relief, will follow.

Asylums.

If this be true, the present currency actually employed will not be increased by the measure. I am fortified in these positions by the opinions of the presidents and directors of the banks with whom I have communicated since your last adjournment. In response to my communications, the following banks have advised me that they would not accept the privileges and assume the obligations of the bill if it should become a law: The Northern Bank, the Bank of Kentucky, the wittee.

Northern Bank, the Bank of Rentucky, the People's Bank, the Bank of Ashland, the Bank of Louiswille, and the Farmers' Bank. The measure of supposed relief must, therefore, in any event, fail.

I sympathize as deeply as any one with our distressed and suffering people. I am anxious to co-operate with you in any measure for their relief; but that object, I apprehend, would not be attained by the operation of this It would depreciate the currency of the State, cripple the present usefulness of the banks by forcing back upon them for re-demption a large amount of the notes now in Thos B. Monroe, Jr., Esq. communicated a message from the Governor, transmitting the reports of the Peace Commissioners; which was ordered to be printed, 6,000 copies for the terial extent, if at all. I would suggest, howuse of the Senate—also, returning a bill, which originated in the Senate, entitled "An act to amend the charters of the Banks of Kentucky," [the 4,000,000 post note bill,] with the senate of the relief, the passage of a law authorizing the banks and other corporations to loan out one half or more of their capital upon accommodation notes bearing 8 per cent. interest, secured by mortgage upon real estate. This, it seems to me, would give a confidence to their paper and stock in the present condition of the country greater than what would spring out of personal security. Receiving a remunerative interest with no danger of loss, the banks would be content to receive the interest on limited calls from time to time when it might be oppressive to exact the principal.

I would also suggest in this connection the appointment of an Inspector or Supervisor, at a competent salary, whose duty it should be, at least four times in the year, to visit the banks, inspect their books, and make a quarterly report of their business to the Governor

But the great cause of distress is not in the number of banks, or the quantity of bank capital, but in the destruction of confidence growing out of the condition of our unhappy country. Restore confidence in the stability of the government, and the ten millions now locked in the hands of individual holders will be thrown into circulation, and no relief will be needed. Let our present uncertainties continue, and credit will be destroyed, trade paralyzed, and the people suffer, no matter how many banks the Legislature may establish, or what additional circulation it may authorize. The highest and surest measures of financial relief will therefore be found in such legislation as will quiet political excitement, allay agitation, and restore confidence in the stability of our Govern-

Our political difficulties and complications have shaken the very basis of commercial prosperity by impairing confidence in the stability of the government; general distrust has been thereby engendered; credit, itself an indirect but not unimportant medium of trade, has been impaired, and the laws of exchange have been disarranged. The consequence has been the contraction of our paper currency. But fortunately the high character and established credit of the banks of Kentucky have enabled them to maintain a larger circulation the rich bonus of many thousands of dollars succeeding day he made an explanation pendabled them to maintain a larger circulation of their notes than would otherwise have peen possible. The emission by them at this time of irredeemable notes, becoming at once a depreciated currency, would impair confidence abroad, bring back upon the bankstheir notes now circulating in other States, cause a constant run upon the coin in their yaults. a constant run upon the coin in their vaults, and withdraw a large portion of the gold and silver on which their ability to pay now debe that the peculiar sentiments of the people silver on which their ability to pay now depends. For the Speedy and Permanent Cure of Seminal Weakness, Nocturnal and Diurnal Emis-sions, Nervous and General Debility, Impotence, and all Diseases arising from Solitary Habits. or Exces-sive Indulgence.

THERE are thousands of Young Men, as well as MIDDLE AGED and OLD MEN, who are suffering to some extent from the above diseases. Many, perhaps, are not aware of their true condition, or when assistance is really needed.

are not aware of their true condition, or when assistance is really needed.

For the benefit of such, we herewith give a few of the most common symptoms, viz: Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pain in the Head and Side, dimness of Sight, Dots and Webs before the Eyes, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspensia, Loss of Alemory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Aversion to Society, Self-Distrust, Timidity, etc. For each and all of the above symptoms these remedies will be found a "Sovereign Balm."

These remedies embrace three prescriptions: A box of Pastels, a box of Nervous Tonic Pills, and a box of Virile Tonic Pills, all of which have important effices to perorm, and should be used together in every case. Their superiority over other modes of treatment may be briefly stated as follows, viz:

| They diminish the violence of sexual excitement.

They immediately arrest nocturnal and diur-

The patient to fis natural neath and vigor of manhood.

They cure when all other means have failed. They contain no Mercury, no Opium, nor anything that can in any event prove injurious, It will prove the patient's usual business or pleasure.

They can be used without suspicion, or knowledge of even a room-mate.

That they may come within the reach of all, we have fixed the price of the Pastels at $1 per box, and the Pills at 50 cents per box each. In ordering by mail, in addition to the price, twelve cents in stamps should be inclosed for return postage.

Caution to Dectors.

From information received since the death of my late partner, C. G. Graham, I believe there are numerous oustanding debts due to the late firm for which notes were given payable to "C. G Graham," (which was the style of the firm) but which have not come into my possession as surviving partner. I therefore warn all persons thus indebted not to make payment to any person other than myself, or my authorized agent. If they do, they will act in their wrong, and may be compelled to pay again to the surviving partner, who alone is authorized to collect said debts.

A Specific for Hooping-Cough! Tis known by a few individuals in the counties of Jefferson, Shelby, and Oldham that I have a remedy that effectually cures Hooping-Cough. If there are remedies in America or Europe that cures, it is not within my knowledge, (except the one I use.) Physicians tell the families they attend it can't be cured. I have no doubt they are candid in what they state. To get the medicine in use, and lull to sleep a deep-rooted prejudice, the faculty are invited to get the medicine, and save the little innocents whom they attend, and tell them no more it cannot be cured.
